SHERIFF KILLED.

EMPORIA, Kan., Aug. 17.—Walt Davis, Sheriff of Lyon county was shot and killed tonight in a pistol duel with two alleged hold-up men.

The slayer escaped in the darkness but his companion did not attempt to escape and is held by the officers.

The man detained, who gave the name of Wm. E. Smith, described the escaping man to the officers and said he had met him a few days ago in Raton, N. M.

CITY MARSHAL CONVICTED. GIRARD, Ala., Aug. 17.—City Marshal J. Oakes was convicted in the circuit court today of accepting bribes from illegal liquor vendors. Mayor Earl Morgan and Clerk I. A. Weaver of Girard were arrested on similar charges but were released on bond.

Oakes testified in his trial that he was instructed by the Girard city council to collect $25 a month from "blind tiger" proprietors and admitted receiving money under these circumstances.

ALLIES SPEED SHELLS. HEADQUARTERS GERMAN ARMY, Berlin to London, Aug. 17.—The expenditure of artillery ammunition by the Entente allies on this front has reached a prodigious volume, often striking the rate of 32 shells a second, during drum fire. Not infrequently along the entire Somme front, nearly 90,000 shells have been dropped in an hour, while a conservative estimate put the average for the 24 hour period at more than 1,000,000 shells.

With this rate of fire the financial cost of the offensive is naturally high. What the approximate losses in human material amount to it is difficult to say. The losses of the British in certain actions have been frightful, while the German losses have been far from light, while not nearly so heavy as the British.

The German expenditure in ammunition has been much lighter than that of the British for the German artillery concentrate its fire on special locations, while the British throw theirs over entire sectors.

State Federation Discuss Industrial Relations Act and Other Matters in State

(By Review Special Wire) COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 17.—A debate on the merits and demerits of the Colorado Industrial Relations act and the state industrial commission featured the meetings of the Colorado Federation of Labor here today. Grant Hamilton, member of Typographical Union Number 49, an organizer of the American Federation of Labor, is leading the fight for the repeal of the measure, and Wayne Williams, member of the Industrial Commission is here to champion the act before the delegates.

Hamilton declares that the measure practically delegates the rights of working people to a commission that they have no right to strike unless the commission is given thirty days notice, and grants its consent, and that it bars men and women from exercising the inalienable right to work or not to work.

"Another reason for labor's antagonism to the law," Hamilton said, "is that members of the commission may invade union meetings, thus depriving workers of the guarantee of the rights of free assembly, free press and free speech. I have not found an individual who can point out one good feature of this law. The idea behind it all is that the labor movement shall delegate its rights to a commission and that commission shall dispense them at will."

Commissioner Williams said that he believed the majority of laboring men will eventually see the advantage to accrue from the act, although at present one of the strongest objections is that it abridges and retains the right to strike and that any such form of compulsion, so called, is un-American.

BOYS WITH THE WALLOP HAVE BEEN FIGHT GAME'S FAVORITES

Though much can be said for skillful boxers, the man with the punch is the fight game's favorite. All through the history of the game the greatest figures have been men who could wallop. Of these Fitzsimmons, Tom Sharkey, Terry McGovern, Stanley Ketchel, Tommy Ryan and Jeffries have been perhaps the chief.
